a new angle on ELEVATED PHOTOGRAPHY

AT ALTUS IMAGING WE LIKE TO AIM HIGHER – and keep our feet on the ground too...

ALTUS IMAGING.co.uk

We specialise in ground-based elevated photography – providing high quality, cost effective imaging from a completely different perspective.

Our techniques allow you or your clients to see the full picture whilst making a great first impression with eye catching results. Whether you require photography for property marketing, business and event promotion or survey purposes, Altus Imaging will provide a high impact solution from a unique viewpoint.

So how does it work?

We provide a quick and non intrusive method of photography from an elevated position. Using our mobile studio we can set up in a matter of minutes and deploy a telescopic mast to heights of up to 26 metres (circa 85 feet).

With the latest digital cameras mounted on a pan-and-tilt head at the top of the mast, we connect to our laptop at ground level. Using remote software we are then able to ensure that every picture we take is of optimum composition and quality before capture – without having to take our feet off the ground!

To ensure perfect results every time we are able to digitally edit and enhance your images if required. Such options include colour correction, perspective control and depth-of-field effects.
